

THINKS

Unusual questions to make you think.

There are NO right or wrong answers to these questions - simply YOUR answers.

You do, however, need to think about your answers and be able to justify them - in other words, don't say the first thing that comes into your head, AND, be prepared to fully explain your answers when you give them.

Listen to the answers given by others and treat them seriously - even if they sound odd, they may all be valid if they can be justified.
